[2] About the Professional Women Conference Series

The Professional Women conference series explores the role of women in leadership and offers practical advice and coaching on how to further develop your career in times of change. The series brings together women from diverse sectors to discuss together how to manage the challenges of modern leadership and help ensure we don't lose momentum in recognising and rewarding female leaders.

Each conference provides delegates with the following skills & practical takeaways:

- The ability to identify the unique leadership challenges and opportunities facing women in their sector today
- A deeper understanding of the skills, qualities and attributes needed to be a successful leader
- Knowledge of how successful women negotiate for what they need to be effective leaders
- The opportunity to design their own breakout session schedule, based on their own needs and aspirations
- A lasting network of women leaders who are effecting real change in their organisations

2021 Events:

Women in Communications

Wednesday, 28th April | Online Event

Although the PR and communications industry is overwhelmingly female overall, the number of women at board director level and above remains stubbornly low. Organised by Dods Parliamentary Communications and held in partnership with the IoIC, CMA, PRCA and CIPR, our unique Women in Communications conference seeks to provide current and future leaders with the skills needed to correct this imbalance.

Women in Local Government

Thursday, 2nd December | London & Online

Despite making up 78% of the local government workforce, women account for only 17% of local authority leaders and 33% of council chief executives – statistics which have hardly changed for a decade. Following successful events over the past three years, Women in Local Government returns online and in London in 2021 to offer practical advice and coaching on how to address the barriers affecting your progression.
